IT CUT HER OFF

A young lady took down the receiver of the telephone one day and discovered that the line was in use.

"I just put on a pan of beans for dinner," she heard one woman complacently informing another.

She hung up the receiver and waited for the conversation to end. Upon returning to the telephone she found the women still talking. Three times she waited, and then at last, becoming exasperated, she broke into the conversation.

"Madam, I smell your beans burning," she announced crisply.

A horrified scream greeted the remark, and the young lady was able to put in her call.—Everybody's.

START PROBE OF ALLEGED JOHNSON TELEGRAM

The federal grand jury yesterday began an investigation into the alleged telegram from Jack Johnson recently printed in the Examiner in which the negro said he paid $25,000 to escape from Chicago.

Officials of the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph companies were called before the jury and asked whether they had transmitted such a message.

Assistant District Attorney David Stansbury believes that if such a telegram was really sent by Johnson one of these companies would have a record, though there is a possibility that it might have been sent over the Hearst news service leased wire.

Charles E. Erbstein, L. R. Jacobs, former assistant district attorney, and John J. Murphy, loan bank owner, were called before the grand jury yesterday in connection with the charges made against federal officials by Mrs. Sol Lewinsohn.

GIRL FALLS INTO RIVER

Late to her work, an unidentified girl tried to leap from a pier to the Chicago avenue bridge, while the bridge was opening to permit passage of a tug today. She fell 30 feet into the icy water and was unconscious when rescued.
